

Sustainability training resources

Olivia Milligan
Sustainability & ESG Advisor

THE SUSTAINABILITY ACADEMY

1 day Continued Professional Development (CPD)

At Peel L&P we offer a carbon literacy course to all our employees for anyone who would like an introduction to climate change and how we can reduce our carbon footprint at home and at work.

Carbon Literacy is a Manchester initiative raising awareness of how our everyday activities at work and home contribute towards carbon emissions and climate change.

The 1 day equivalent course is built on the principle that when we are carbon literate, we will have an instinctive understanding of the carbon impacts of our activities and be able to make informed choices about the most energy and resource efficient, and lowest carbon, options available to us. This will not only benefit us as individuals but also our wider society.

You will receive a certificate from the Carbon Literacy project after completing all sessions.

What will I learn?

The significance of climate change and its role within our everyday lives

The impact of our activities on carbon emissions

How to make informed choices that help you to do your bit for the planet

Participant Emma Connolly, said:

'The virtual Carbon Literacy course was a great way to get together with other members from Peel L&P to talk through climate change and the ways in which we can help by changing some of our own actions. While the course was online rather than in the classroom it didn't detract from the important message and I think it worked well. The Groundwork team who delivered the training had great content and the breakout room discussions were really useful to talk with a smaller audience. I am conscious of my commitments and look forward to implementing some of our team commitments when we are back in the office.'

Our Peel L&P people receiving their Carbon Literacy certificates in 2019

If you are interested in enrolling on any of our Carbon Literacy courses, please register your interest on Kallidus, in "My Learning"

For more information please contact the People Team, or Sustainability@peellandp.co.uk

1 hour e-learning module

Sustainability Essentials is aimed at all employees who would like an introduction or a quick refresh on sustainability. The module can also contribute towards your Sustainability objectives for your appraisal.

Sustainability Essentials is an e-learning module provided through our partnership with the UK Green Building Council.

Through videos, case studies and activities, this 1-hour awareness level course is the first step on the journey to understanding the significant impact that our buildings and infrastructure have on both people and the environment.

It will help you understand global issues as well as the actions you can take to support Peel in its sustainability journey. This module will ensure you are up to speed on current issues and progressive solutions that can be implemented throughout the business.

What will I learn?

An understanding of global sustainability issues and the significant impact our assets have on people and the environment

Be able to identify opportunities within your role where you can improve sustainability and support our sustainability journey

Keep up to speed on current issues and progressive solutions

How businesses are responding to sustainability issues and the solutions we are implementing to deliver our sustainable outcomes.

The course is available via the Peel L&P Personal Development Hub.

Employees should consider their business area needs and get approval from their line manager before requesting enrolment.

